Dear Friends

Before I am anything else, I am a follower of Jesus. The very heart of Jesus' moral teaching is found in the golden rule.

"You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind and with all your strength." The second is this, "You shall love your neighbour as yourself. There is no other commandment greater than these." (Mk 12:30-31).

In the Old Testament, God spoke to Israel, reminding them of their experience of being foreigners and aliens in a strange land. God commanded them to love everyone as they loved themselves, even people who were different because they had once been the 'different' strangers in Egypt.

"When an alien resides with you in your land, you shall not oppress the alien. The alien who resides with you shall be to you as the native-born among you; you shall love the alien as yourself, for you were aliens in the land of Egypt: I am the LORD your God." (Leviticus 19:33-34).

In today's fractious political climate, there are those who are trying to make ethnic minority groups feel uncomfortable and are proposing policies of mass deportations. There is no way of putting this subtly, this is an expression of evil and is contrary to the teaching of Jesus. As Christians we all have a duty to stand up and be counted, to engage in public dialogue clearly and courageously. At such a time as this neutrality is simply not an option for Jesus' followers.

In the face of a gathering storm, it's always tempting to batten down the hatches and hide in a place of safety. But now is the time to stand up for Jesus' teaching, to speak and live the Biblical truth that every human being is made in the image of God and is, therefore, of infinite value and worth.

I write with love and tenderness and resolution, here I stand.

George Frideric Handel

With much love to you all, Mark

PASTORAL NEWS

In Hertfordshire the autumnal tree colours are a magnificent sight and with the colder temperatures our wardrobes reflect the climate changes. British summertime will have ended at 2am on Sunday, 26th October, when clocks were put back one hour. Now the mornings are beginning to get lighter but the evenings are darker.

On 9th November it is 'Remembrance Sunday'. In our church we will be reflecting on the tragedy of the second World War, 1939-1945. Statistics state that between seventy and eighty-five million people died, half of which were civilians and some of these were known to our families.

According to international analysis the world saw the highest level of armed conflict since the second World War in 2024, with this trend continuing in 2025. Daily we are reminded in the media of these atrocities and we continually pray for all people affected in our world.

In our church the following friends would benefit from our prayers: Sandra and John Carpenter, Olly Branch and family, Linda Williams, Jenny Johnson, Krisztina Schreiner, Veronica Willians, Elizabeth Allen. Prayers also for Jane Swain, following a fall and for Joanne Kipgen as she settles back into her role at the Emmanuel School.

We also remember the following friends who can no longer get to church: Bill and Elizabeth Allen, John Peters, Brenda and Jack Passmore.

*In Christ alone my hope is found,
He is my light, my strength, my song;
This Cornerstone, this solid ground,
Firm through the fiercest drought and storm.
What heights of love, what depths of peace.*

*When fears are stilled, when strivings cease!
My Comforter, my All in All,
Here in the love of Christ I stand.*

*No guilt in life, no fear in death,
This is the power of Christ in me;
From life's first cry to final breath,
Jesus commands my destiny.
No power of hell, no scheme of man,
Can ever pluck me from His hand;
Till He returns or calls me home,
Here in the power of Christ I'll stand!*

What a wonderful change in my life has been wrought
Since Jesus came into my heart!
I have light in my soul for which long I had sought,
Since Jesus came into my heart!

I have ceased from my wand'ring and going astray,
Since Jesus came into my heart!
And my sins which were many are all washed away,
Since Jesus came into my heart!

I'm possessed of a hope that is steadfast and sure,
Since Jesus came into my heart!
And no dark clouds of doubt now my pathway obscure,
Since Jesus came into my heart!

I shall go there to dwell in that city, I know,
Since Jesus came into my heart!
And I'm happy, so happy, as onward I go,
Since Jesus came into my heart!

REFRAIN

Since Jesus came into my heart,
Since Jesus came into my heart,
Floods of joy o'er my soul like the sea billows roll,
Since Jesus came into my heart!

Christian Aid's 2025 Christmas Appeal

“No Crib for a Bed”

As the festive season approaches, a time traditionally marked by tidings of peace and joy, we are invited to consider the reality of those facing unimaginable hardship due to violence.

In the Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC), decades of conflict and political instability have fuelled one of the world's largest humanitarian crises. Violence between multiple armed groups and government forces has left millions of families with no option but to abandon their homes and livelihoods in search of safety. As a result of conflict, the DRC is among the five poorest nations in the world. It's estimated that more than 70% of the population lived on around £1.50 a day last year. The violence has damaged infrastructure. Shops and businesses have been looted and church congregations have been subjected to targeted attacks.

Chance is the mother of eight children, including baby Siborge, and used to work as a shopkeeper. When armed conflict swept through her community in February, Chance knew her family had to escape to survive. Clutching her newborn baby and rallying her children, Chance fled on foot. Her husband stayed behind. As fighter jets screamed overhead and bombs fell, Chance felt her recent caesarean wound open. With great courage, Chance sought out the relative safety of Katashola Camp for displaced people and was able to receive some medical assistance.

But now, her children are hungry, and at grave risk of malnutrition and malaria. Chance told us: 'Here in the camp, people need food, clothes, jerrycans, saucepans, blankets and mattresses.' The humanitarian emergency in the DRC is one of the largest global hunger crises, with more than 27 million people in need of food. Though Chance is a brave and resourceful mother, she's running out of options – because of a situation that's heartbreakingly beyond her control. She says: 'I wish you could help me and my companions who are suffering like me. Please help us.'

Joyce is a farmer and mother of four children. Her loving family includes her husband, Michel, three daughters and one son. When Joyce was heavily pregnant with her daughter Emiliana, violence was spreading in the region where the family live in the DRC. Joyce was afraid that the conflict would reach their home. As she went into labour, Joyce could hear bombs falling nearby.

When Emiliana was just two months old soldiers came to Joyce's village and the family were forced to hide in the nearby forest. Returning to their home meant capture or death. The family fled to Bulengo Camp for displaced people. Joyce told Christian Aid: 'Emiliana was in a near death state. I tied her to my chest and covered her with a blanket. The child just clung to my chest. I was scared and thinking: Will I die? Will my children die too? I was asking God, if I die, who will take care of my child?'

Sadly, life in Bulengo Camp offered little relief. Food and drinking water were in exceptionally short supply. After two days, the family faced serious hunger and thirst. Michel risked his life returning to their home to collect whatever supplies he could salvage. While the family have been able to return to their home full-time, the trauma stays with them. Joyce says: 'All the time I am thinking about the war. If it gets here, where will we flee to?' She adds: 'Emiliana's whole five months of life have been very stressful. She doesn't even get enough time to play with me – her mother – due to my fear.'

Working with trusted partner, ECC-MERU, Christian Aid is delivering financial assistance to refugees, people who've been displaced, and people who are marginalised in the DRC. Called the Chronic Crisis Stream, this vital funding is a lifeline for families who've left everything behind to survive. Offering financial assistance means people can prioritise their own specific needs and decide how to meet them. Many choose to buy ingredients that will guard their family from malnutrition. Others opt to replace left-behind bedding and blankets for their children – help ing to make temporary shelters feel a little more homely. With medication beyond the budget of many households, some choose to buy lifesaving malaria treatment. ECC-MERU is also working to increase sustainable access to drinking water.

Christian Aid urgently needs our support this Christmas, so that mothers like Chance & Joyce can buy nutritious food, vital medicines and hygiene products. Our gifts could fund emergency shelters, as well as cosy bedding to comfort traumatised children.

Look out for the Christian Aid Christmas Appeal envelopes in the church on Christmas Day. Alternatively, you could go to the Christian Aid website to donate on-line, or use the QR code on the poster in the Cross Street Centre.

November 2025

2 November: This year marks the 75th anniversary of the Baptist Women's World Day of Prayer, held annually on the first Monday in November. This year's theme is 'Living the Good News' and we are encouraged to link hearts and hands with others as we seek the wisdom of God's Word, pray with intention, and learn how the Lord is moving in every part of the world. www.bwawomen.org/day-of-prayer

9 November: A prayer from the Armed Forces Christian Union for Remembrance Sunday: Father God, we come to you today so thankful for the freedom that we enjoy in our country. We remember the sacrifice of all those who have given their lives to secure that freedom in the two great wars and all the areas of conflict which have arisen since. Lord, we pray that you will strengthen and sustain all those currently serving in our military today. We ask that you continue to lead and guide our military leaders in the challenging days ahead and that the leaders of our Armed Forces will always seek your wisdom in their planning and strategies. Amen.

PLANNED MISSION GIVING

Grants for most of this year's budgeted beneficiaries have been made by bank transfer, and gift contributions will be sent to our church partners next month.

This year our grants have gone to:- Manipur Charitable Trust; Bible Society; Central Baptist Association; St Albans & Harpenden Christian Education Project; Youth with a Mission; the Saltmine Theatre Company Tour of local Primary Schools; 2:67 Project; St Albans Fund for the Future; Vineyard Care Centre; Herts Welcomes Refugees; and to Interserve in support of our friends the Vokuhl family, in Nepal.

Family Nativity & Gift Service

Sunday 14th December

10.30am

This year will be the 11th consecutive year we have collected children's gifts for the St Albans and Hertsmere Women's Refuge, (SAHWR). Last year you very generously donated nearly 200 'wonderful' presents which the refuge was not only delighted to receive, but were very appreciative of the generosity of everyone who contributed. It is a very valuable and tangible way of supporting a significant need in our local community.

This year's arrangements will be similar to last year:-

Firstly, the Refuge would prefer presents not to be gift wrapped, as although a number of them are given on behalf of Santa, others are passed directly to the respective parent, who can arrange the gift wrapping to make the gift more personal.

Secondly, if you are unable to attend on 14th December but would like to contribute, a Gift Donation Box will be left in the lower link for contributions to be made in advance, from Monday 1st December. For those of you who would like your contribution to be collected, please get in touch with me.

However you plan to shop this Christmas, please consider including an extra item or two on your festive toy shopping list, for the children of SAHWR. We will be inviting representatives from the refuge to our Gift Service on 14th December where all your gifts will be on display. It would be wonderful if we were to make their visit as meaningful and worthwhile as it has been over the past 10 years.

Happy toy-shopping!

Dear Supporter

Regrettably we are unable to send individual messages of thanks through Localgiving but wanted to assure you that your donation is greatly appreciated.

This last year has seen over 14,000 three day emergency food parcels provided throughout the St Albans District together with fresh produce and hygiene goods via our 9 distribution hubs.

We strive, however, to be more than a foodbank by helping clients to access the support to which they are entitled and to this end have partnerships with Citizens Advice and Mind and employ our own Wellbeing and Advocacy coordinators.

I would like to share a couple of pieces of feedback from clients who attended our hubs.

First, a lovely thank you.

"Hi All, I just had to send a message of thanks after my visit today. Not only did I get some lovely food for myself and daughter, I also received support, advice and complete non judgement for other issues I shared. This meant so much. Here is a pic of my lovely dinner made with my food parcel. Thanks again." (I cannot attach the pic)

Second, a heart-warming story of how a little help can go a long way.

Client D has attended a centre for over a year. He was living in his car, suffering with MH issues amongst other things.

As he was deemed homeless with no fixed abode he had no access to funds, etc. The Foodbank saw him weekly, provided warm clothes, shoes and heated hand warmers to support him over winter. He engaged with the Citizens Advice at the Foodbank hub and the local community group. The Foodbank became his weekly check in with society. He accessed support with his case, benefits advice, hot drinks, company from clients and volunteers and mental health referral via Foodbank's Well-being team. He recently won his court case and gained access to money he was owed. He attended the Foodbank a few weeks back, with a large donation, clean shaven, new bike and new clothes. He now supports the Foodbank with lived experience information, feedback on how we could do better and what we did really well.

Your support helps make this possible.

Best wishes,

Mark Pontin, Trustee, St Albans & District Foodbank

FOODBANK

Can you add one extra thing to your weekly shop?

There is even more need for food bank donations in the St Albans area. All DSBC food donations are now sent to the St Albans and District Foodbank run by the Trussel Trust Charity whose depot is in Redbourn, who also collect from the Foodbank baskets placed in many of the local supermarkets and the Town Hall and the Verulamium museums.

You can now access the shopping list needs on a free app called 'Bank the food', however, it seems that the most urgent needs are:

LONG LIFE JUICE

LONG LIFE MILK

MULTI SURFACE CLEANER

LUNCH BOX SNACKS

TINNED CUSTARD

TUNNED FRUIT

TINNED MEAT

If you want to see the full list but cannot get the app speak to me.

If we just add one item to our shopping list we can bring it with us on a Sunday and I can ensure it is taken to a collection point.

Many thanks

Diane

The Honey Bee

Honey bees are fascinating insects! They live in "colonies", with several thousand co-operating together to build their nest (hive), collect food and rear young. Each member of the colony has a particular task to perform, depending on its role and age:

- the queen bee, which is the only bee able to produce eggs. There is only one queen bee in a colony, and the queen bee is the largest bee.
- the male drone bees, which mate with the queen bee and then die. They don't sting. A typical colony or hive has 700-1000 drones
- the female worker bees, which collect food, make beeswax and build honeycombs and feed the young. These are small, and have stingers. There might be up to 60,000 worker bees in a colony or hive!

Life Cycle of a Honey Bee

There are 4 stages in the honey bee's life cycle:

Egg - Larva - Pupa - Adult

The queen bee mates with drone bees (which then die). She lays a single egg into each cell of the honeycomb. A queen might lay up to 3,000 eggs per day!

The Honey Bee

Egg

The egg is long, thin and white, and about the size of a grain of rice. The eggs are laid into different cells, depending on whether they will become worker bees, drone bees or queen bees.

Larva

After a few days, the egg hatches into a larva which looks like a white grub.

Young worker bees feed the larva, first with a special liquid called Royal Jelly, and then "bee bread" (a mixture of pollen and honey).

Potential queen bees get special treatment and are fed only Royal Jelly!

Pupa

After a few days, the larva stops eating and spins itself a cocoon. The pupa's cell is capped by the worker bees with a lid of beeswax.

The pupa is no longer fed but it continues to grow, developing legs, eyes and wings inside the cocoon.

“I AM A COMPANION OF ALL THEM THAT FEAR THEE” Psalm 119 v 63

The business man knows the value of unsolicited testimonials. If he has any, he puts a choice selection in his advertisements and advises the reader the the originals, together with hundreds more in a similar strain, are available for inspection at .... If I buy anything with these testimonials on the wrapper I admit I always read them. It is for me a very happy experience to hear unsolicited testimonials from all kinds of people concerning our church.

The past few weeks have brought forth a whole spate of testimonials. It is refreshing and heartening. So often the Church is just left unnoticed and not even scorned, that to hear favourable comments is somewhat extraordinary.

I have heard remarks about many aspects of the work in Dagnall Street, but by far the commonest are those concerning the friendly atmosphere regnant in the services. That is a wonderful advertisement not only for our fellowship but also for the gospel of Christ. It is just the way the Church should be.

New worshippers have been surprised to find that, on their second visit, they have been welcomed by name. Someone told me, “Church used to mean a building to me, but since I came to Dagnall Street it means people.” Another remarked that the warm fellowship would attract him again—and it has done so.

So we have to face the fact that, during the next few months when we go to church we shall have to brave the cold and the rain. Then let the warmth of the fellowship continue to make the journey worth while.

But let us always recall that we are seeking to welcome people with our friendliness not to fill our pews but to bring them under the soul of the Gospel. Bear in mind that we are not a friendly society seeking new members, but ambassadors of Christ seeking new converts. Therefore, let our friendliness be free of frivolity and full of Christian love.

By just a word of welcome to the stranger who sits beside you you may help to win another soul to Christ. And this word we can all speak.

LARVA	PUPA

This beautiful book comprises 53 carefully-curated extracts from the writings of Charles Dickens, all relating to the season of Christmas. Each reading is presented for reflective reading alongside an appropriate passage from the Bible, a prayer, and a verse from a traditional Christmas carol. The collection as a whole is the perfect Christmas gift for fans of Dickens, and an inspirational armchair companion for all non-Scrooges at 'this kind, forgiving, charitable, pleasant time' of year.

The book, written by Stephen Poxon who has conducted many services for us, particularly during our recent pastoral vacancy, is due to be published later this month, and in a recent email he says, "Any help you might be able to offer in promoting my newest book would be greatly appreciated."

'With Dickens at Christmas' is available from Eden.co.uk at: <https://www.eden.co.uk/christian-books/christmas-and-advent-books/advent-books/advent-devotionals/with-dickens-at-christmas/>

It's simply a question of visiting the Eden website, then entering 'Stephen Poxon' into the 'Search' box - then ordering lots of copies as Christmas presents!

Advent Cloze

Fill in the missing words using the words in the box below.

Advent is the season in the _____ Church that marks the period before Christmas. Advent comes from the Latin word meaning '_____'. The season starts on the fourth _____ before Christmas which can fall between 27th November and 3rd December.

The modern Advent Wreath dates back to nineteenth century Germany. It is traditionally made of _____ tree branches tied with red ribbon and decorated with pine cones, and other evergreens. There are four _____ which are lit on each of the Sundays of Advent.

Non-religious Advent celebrations tend to start on the 1st of _____. Advent _____ were traditionally a picture with windows for the twenty-four days of December which were opened on each day to reveal small pictures. Many calendars now have _____ behind the windows.

FINANCIAL SUPPORT FOR THE CHURCH

As we all know our household bills are rising and the cost of heating and lighting the church is no different to the energy costs at home. Our church relies on raising its own income. Some of this comes from hiring out our rooms, but the majority comes from congregational giving. There are various ways in which this can be done. There is a plate by the door of the church for cash and offering envelopes.

We now also have a contactless offering device which accepts card or phone payments of specific amounts and this is also by the main church doors on Sundays. These donations are completely anonymous.

We are happy to receive bank transfers and standing orders and the details are below:

Deacons of Dagnall Street Baptist Church
60-18-11
42087783

If you decide to make an offering in this way, it is helpful if you are able to email our Finance Manager, Liz Blight, lizblight@gmail.com, so that she can connect up the entry on our bank statement.

Thank you for your generosity!

The Deacons

THE COPY FOR THE DEC 2025/JAN 2026
MAGAZINE IS DUE ON THURSDAY, 20th NOVEMBER

The run up to Christmas starts this week as it is Christmas cake baking time. Christmas puddings next week! I'm up to my ears in fruit soaking in brandy. It smells really nice. And sometime , in amongst the cake baking, I need to do something with all the tomatoes I have picked—red and green ones!

While finishing off the magazine tonight I had Tinker, Tailor, Soldier, Spy on with Gary Oldman. I still think I prefer Alec Guiness, but really I still haven't worked out who are the spies and who are the spies that got away with it!!

The garden looks a bit of a mess at the moment, as I have a lot of shrubs and hedges to prune and, as I have been doing a lot of cover at the hospice, I have been doing it in spurts, so nothing is finished at the moment. But I am sure I will get it done in the end. I've become a dab hand with a pruning saw and with a cordless hedge trimmer. But the pesky grass is still growing! Yet another cut is needed. I've also been trying to plant some allium and daffodil bulbs but the ground is still very hard and it has been quite tricky. I hope after the bits of rain this weekend it might be a bit softer next week.

I've done my best to get this magazine to the printers as early as possible this month and will keep my fingers cross that it will be in the church by next Sunday (last Sunday of the month) as the last two editions missed it.

I've watched a great firework display tonight through my windows as some of my neighbours are celebrating Diwali.

Have a good November.

In flanders fields

In flanders fields the poppies blow,
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place; and in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing, fly
Scarce heard amid the guns below.

We are the Dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie,
In flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe:
To you from failing hands we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high.
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In flanders fields.

By John McCrae
